ALVAN C. GILLEM. Colonel First Cavalry, Commanding. SAN FRANCISCO, April 18 .- Since Monday, when the expedition moved against the Modocs, there has been continued firing on both sides. The Modocs are con-cealed behind the rocks, and one Indian is equal to one hundred soldiers. nel Gillem is confident that the Modocs can't escape. The following is a list of the killed and wounded in the battle of the 16th: Lieut. Egan, 12th infantry Sergeant Good and Corporal Dalar, of the same regiment; Corporals Kilbeck and Delano, of the 4th artillery; privates E. O'Conner, T. McManus, Martin O'Conner, and Thos. Brainard-all badly wounded. Chas. Johnson and M. T. Zarl, of the 1st cavalry, were killed. Col. Gillem, commanding the expedition, telegraphs to Gen. Schofield that it is impossible to surround and fight the Indians in the lava beds with the present force. The latest reports state that a portion of the Indians have escaped from the lava beds. There is a continual fire from the Moritz howitzers upon the Indian caves. The Modocs present a bold front. Gen. Schofield to-day forwarded several hundred troops and two batteries of artillery. The latest news from the lava beds states that there was a severe fight on the 15th and 16th inst. Capt. Jack is surrounded in the lava beds. Gillem's command drove the Indians back and cut them off from water. The troops are now within four hundred yards of the Indian caves.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—After two days fighting, the Modocs fled to the hills southwest of the lava beds. They took one scalp. The soldiers took four, including wounded in the arm. The Warm Spring Indians fought well, stealing upon the Modocs, and ever take and hold any advantage. The total Federal loss was 10 wounded and 5 killed. Eight Indians are known to have been killed. The Modocs are traveling towards Willow Springs. The cavalry, and their Warm Spring In dian allies, are in pursuit, with three days rations. It is feared that the Modocs will divide up into small bands and greatly damage the settlers.
